

The children are home

All the children have returned home. Thank you for your prayers and continued support.

Although there is still fear of gang violence, it is less than before. The children are now preparing for their final exams. As for me, I'm organizing everything for next year: uniforms, tuition, and class materials. You can visit our website at in的角度.org.

If you're interested in our scholarship program or would like to sponsor a child for food, school, or both, contact info@in的角度.org.

For Interac transfer arrangements, contact info@in的角度.org.

Thank you once again for your generosity. Your seven years of support give us the strength to continue.
